WHERE SCIENCE, BEAUTY AND INNOVATION COLLIDE

APRIL 2026

- Dr. Yoo headed to Denver this March for AAD 2026, and K-beauty had never been more visible on the medical stage. From the product theater to the exhibit hall floor, Korean innovation was everywhere.
- K-beauty brands Anua, Glow Recipe, Peach Slices, Hero Cosmetics, and Dr. Reju-All, etc., all had major presences at the AAD exhibit hall, a clear signal that Korean skincare has earned its place in clinical conversations.
- Proud to be Korean and inspired by the global impact of K-beauty, read on for highlights, brand spotlights, and a deep dive into the K-beauty device making waves in aesthetic dermatology.

Dr. Yoo x CLASSYS: Everesse at AAD 2026

- This spring, Dr. Yoo took the stage at the AAD Annual Meeting in Denver as a featured speaker for CLASSYS, presenting alongside Dr. Mariana Gradowski on Clinical Outcomes of a Novel Monopolar RF Device (Everesse) in Multicultural Skin Types. The session focused on real-world safety and efficacy data across diverse patient populations, a topic important to Dr. Yoo as a New York dermatologist serving a multicultural community.
- Everesse is CLASSYS's next-generation monopolar RF device, designed to lift, tighten, and volumize with improved energy delivery and enhanced patient comfort compared to legacy RF systems. FDA and Health Canada cleared, it represents a new chapter in K-beauty device innovation on the global stage.
- For Dr. Yoo, this collaboration reflects a bigger mission, championing Korean aesthetic technology in medical spaces and ensuring that the science behind K-beauty devices gets the serious clinical attention it deserves.

K-BEAUTY TAKES THE EXHIBIT HALL

At AAD 2026, K-beauty brands were not just in the beauty aisle, but also present across one of dermatology's most established annual meetings. From ingredient-focused skincare to device innovation, Korean companies highlighted the science behind their products.

Dr. Reju-All

Polynucleotide-based formulations are beginning to enter more clinical conversations within dermatology.

Anua

Anua's Heartleaf line focuses on calming, barrier-supportive formulations and has gained strong visibility across dermatology social media.

Peach Slices

Accessible, science-backed K-beauty for a wide range of skin types and budgets. Sail.

Glow Recipe

Co-founded by Christine Chang and Sarah Lee, Glow Recipe bridges Korean beauty science with clean, fruit-powered formulations. Dr. Yoo got to meet Co-CEO Christine Chang in person at AAD, which felt like a full-circle moment!

Glow Recipe Prickly Pear Peptide Mucin

Mighty Patch by Hero Cosmetics

Hydrocolloid acne patch technology, a K-beauty staple for decades, had a strong presence at AAD. Mighty Patch has helped bring this Korean pharmacy innovation into the global skincare mainstream.
