REMINDER: SUNSCREEN IS FSA & HSA ELIGIBLE!

Looking for ways to use up any leftover FSA/HSA funds? It's a great opportunity to stock up on sunscreen for the next year or replace an old bottle. Stop by to purchase some sunscreen at the office!

L'OREAL HAIR EVENT

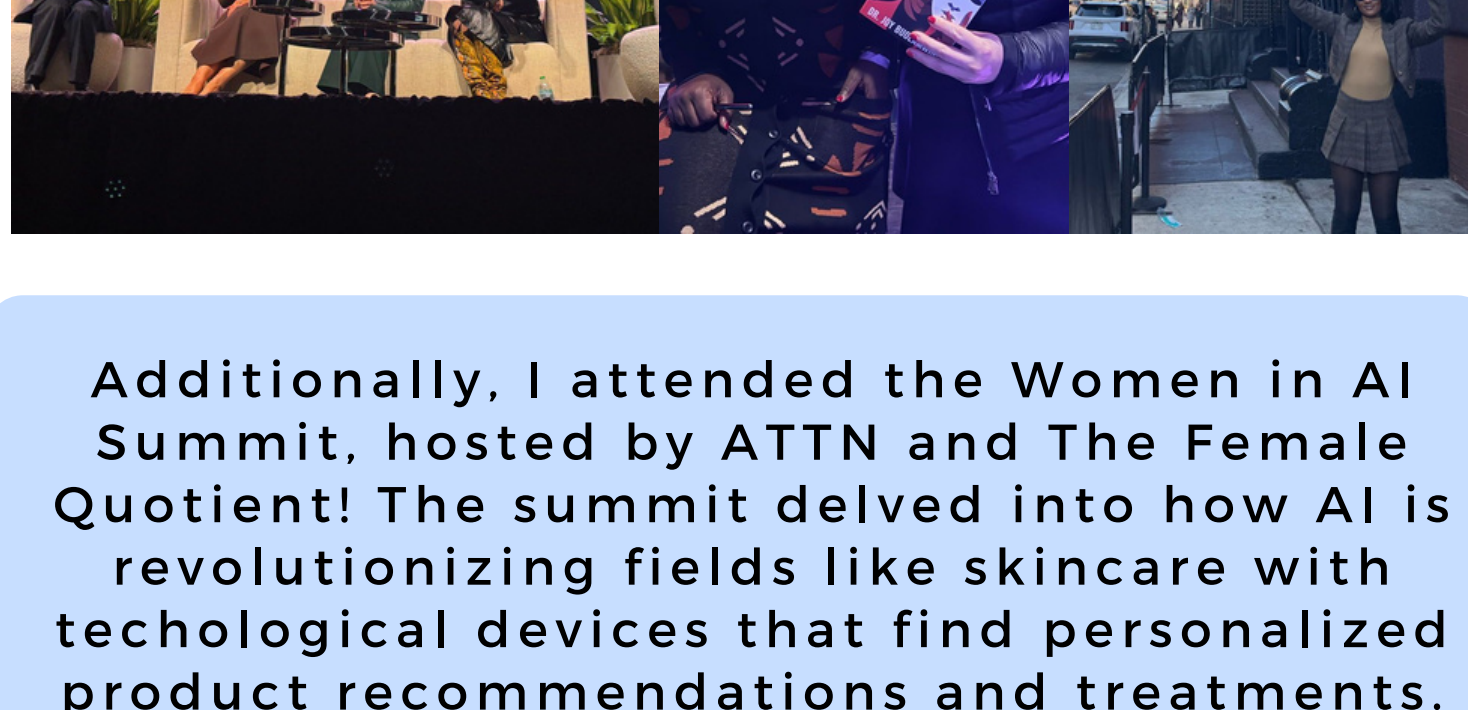

I attended L'Oreal Dermatological Beauty's launch of new Vichy Dercos haircare products focused on helping treat dandruff symptoms of flakes, scales, itching, and redness. Check them out at Walmart! The highlight of the event was the live AI scalp analysis which allowed me to take a closer look at my own scalp!

RACE WITH GOD'S LOVE WE DELIVER

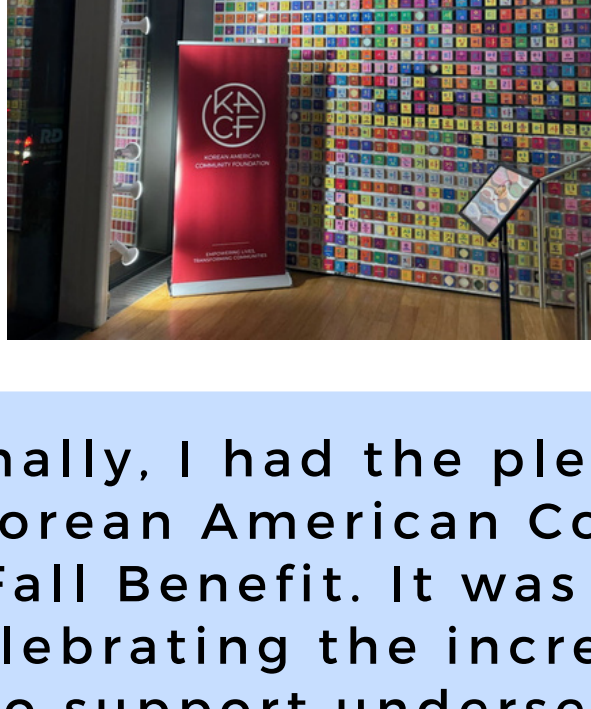

This month, I ran the God's Love We Deliver race in Central Park, part of my 9+1. It was inspiring to support an organization providing medically tailored meals to those battling illnesses. I stayed protected during my run with Shiseido sunscreen, part of a lovely winter gift box of essentials that the company sent me. Sunscreen is a definite must year-round!

WOMEN IN AI SUMMIT

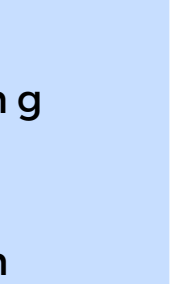

Additionally, I attended the Women in AI Summit, hosted by ATTN and The Female Quotient! The summit delved into how AI is revolutionizing fields like skincare with technological devices that find personalized product recommendations and treatments.

KOREAN AMERICAN COMMUNITY FOUNDATION FALL BENEFIT

Finally, I had the pleasure of attending the Korean American Community Foundation Fall Benefit. It was a wonderful evening celebrating the incredible work KACF does to support underserved members of the Korean-American community!
