KIEHL'S:

NEW PRODUCTS COMING SOON!

SUNSCREEN & ANTI-AGING PRODUCTS

I recently was asked by Kiehl's executives to address their global marketing leaders at the headquarters in the Meatpacking District.

I spoke to them about sunscreen innovation and how the latest skincare trends are influencing the market. There are a lot of exciting developments that you will see in stores!

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

IMCAS PARIS

I had the privilege of attending the IMCAS World Congress in Paris, connecting with global experts in dermatology, plastic surgery, and aesthetic medicine. I presented on AI global regulation at the Skin and Digital Summit. I also co-chaired the Cosmeceuticals MasterClass on Skincare & Digital, as well as a session on Bioregeneration.

Some other exciting experiences were participating in testing the first wearable ultrasound device and learning more about exosomes in regenerative medicine. A fun highlight was interviewing Dr. Sandra Lee ("Dr. Pimple Popper") while enjoying a variety of stinky cheeses for "The Cheesy Ones."

AESTURA
NOW AT SEPHORA

I was the first person to conduct U.S. clinical trials with AESTURA, a leading Korean cosmetic brand under Amorepacific. The brand just made its U.S. debut exclusively at Sephora! AESTURA is known for its Atobarrier 365 technology, designed to help people with sensitive skin.
