FIND OUT WHAT I'VE BEEN UP TO!

SIX STAR MEDAL!

I recently completed the Abbott World Marathon Majors Six Star Journey, finishing my sixth and final marathon in Berlin. It was an honor to receive the 6-star medal at the 50th anniversary of the BMW Berlin Marathon.

Having now completed the marathons in Boston, NYC, Chicago, London, Tokyo, and Berlin, this journey has been one of joy and humbleness (being the slow runner that I am!)

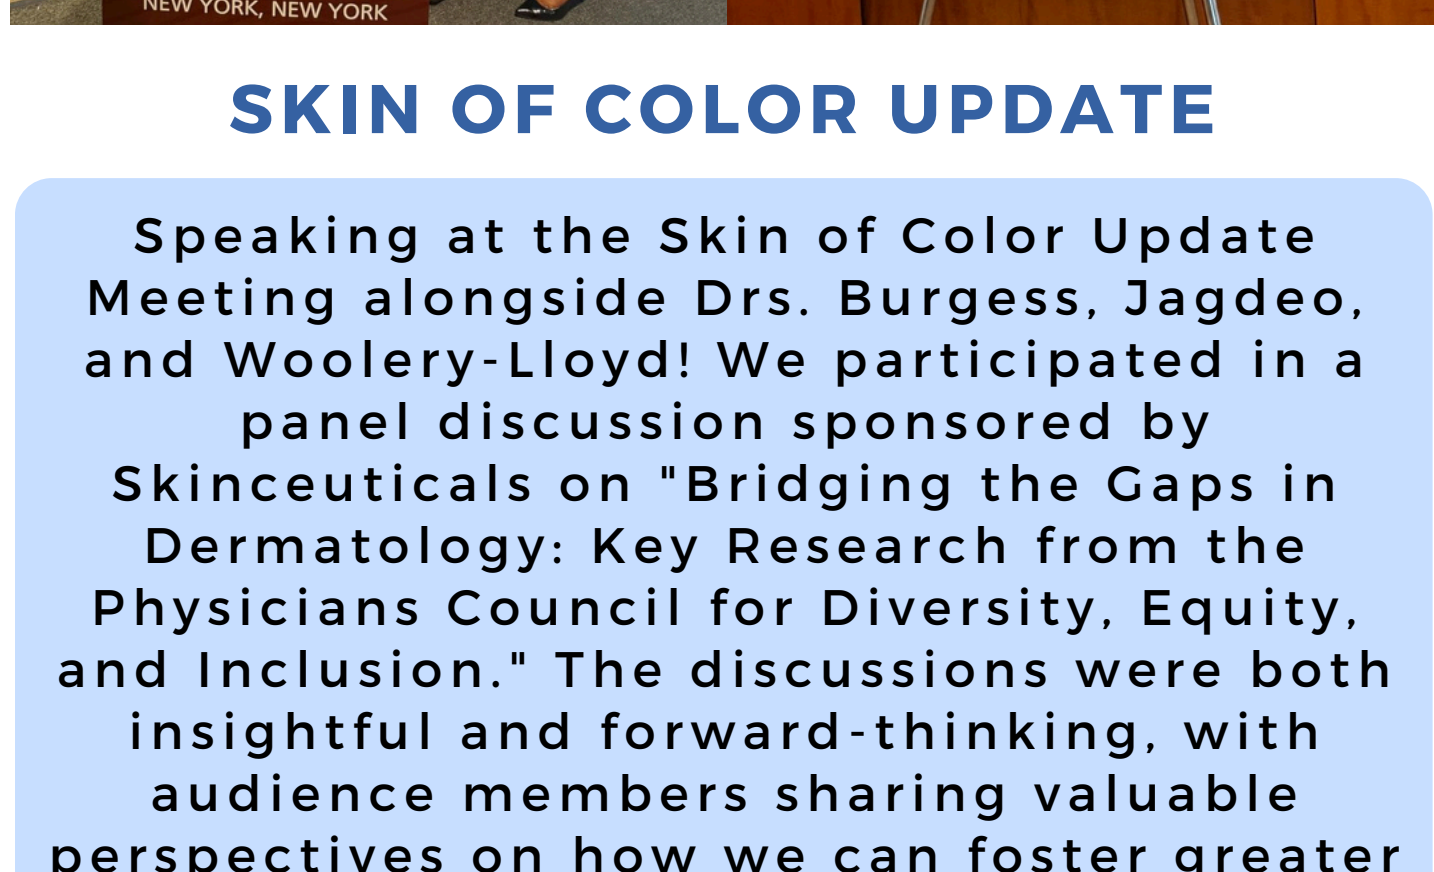

DESTINATION HEALTHY SKIN WITH THE SKIN CANCER FOUNDATION

This past week, I volunteered with Destination Healthy Skin. The Skin Cancer Foundation's mobile, free skin cancer screening and education program recently made a stop in New York City!

One in five Americans are diagnosed with skin cancer by age 70, and skin cancer affects EVERYONE, so it's important to check your skin! And yes, sunscreen is essential even on cloudy days!

AAD'S ART OF SKIN GALA

I had the pleasure of attending the American Academy of Dermatology's (AAD's) Art of Skin event in NYC. The AAD is developing a comprehensive image collection of skin conditions that represents all skin types and tones. I'm proud to support this initiative, which enhances our understanding of diverse dermatologic conditions and promotes health equity!

SKIN OF COLOR UPDATE

Speaking at the Skin of Color Update Meeting alongside Drs. Burgess, Jagdeo, and Woolery-Lloyd! We participated in a panel discussion sponsored by SkinCeuticals on "Bridging the Gaps in Dermatology: Key Research from the Physicians Council for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion." The discussions were both insightful and forward-thinking, with audience members sharing valuable perspectives on how we can foster greater inclusivity in our field.

HAPPI WELLNESS CONFERENCE

I recently attended the Happi Wellness Conference in NYC, an insightful event focused on nutrition, beauty, personal care, and overall wellness. A highlight was Qian Zheng's talk on L'Oréal's vision for the future of skincare. The conference was a great opportunity to explore valuable trends in the industry. Trends come and go, but science is forever!
